

REPUBLICAN ORATORS ARE GREETED BY CHEERS

TO PLAY FIRST SERIES OF GAMES IN PHILADELPHIA

By Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 4.—By the toss of a coin the National baseball commission today decided that the first match game of the world's championship series between Philadelphia, the American league champions, and the Chicago pennant winners of the National league, will be played at Philadelphia. The dates are fixed as follows: October 17, Philadelphia; second game October 18, Philadelphia; third, October 20, at Chicago; fourth, October 21 Chicago. The fifth game, if one be necessary, will be at Philadelphia; the sixth, at Chicago. If the contest is not then decided the location for the seventh game will be fixed by the toss of a coin.

SIX SAILORS REPORTED MISSING ARE FOUND

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Six sailors who were included in the list of probably drowned by the swamping of the barge being towed to the battleship New Hampshire Saturday night, have been heard from, and eight of the missing have been located. This reduces the list of the probable dead to 23, with but eight missing.

BIG FIRE RAGES IN NEW YORK LUMBER YARD

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Fire in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth street and Eleventh avenue tonight devastated almost three acres of lumber yards, factories and stables. The loss aggregates $1,500,000. For over three hours the fire was beyond the control of the department.

$100,000 IS REWARD OFFERED FOR ARREST OF "TIMES" DYNAMITERS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—Rewards aggregating $100,000, an amount unprecedented in criminal history, have been offered for the arrest of those responsible for the blowing up of the Times building. Hundreds of men, both police and private citizens, both here and at the other coast cities, are seeking clues. The police believe that at least three were concerned in this outrage and attempted to dynamite the homes of General Otis and Zeehandelaar. Today the city placed a price of $10,000 upon the head of each, the county voted an additional $50,000 for each man convicted, and the Merchants and Manufacturers association decided to offer $50,000.

A local newspaper, friendly to the unions, today printed on the front page an editorial demanding that the strikes now in progress be declared off in view of the strictures directed against the unions in connection with the explosion.

The State Federation of Labor, which opened its convention here today, will probably take action tomorrow looking to the appointment of investigators to work in conjunction with the city officials. Governor Gillett today repudiated an alleged interview in which he was reported as saying that the unions must be blamed until they proved themselves innocent.

"What I did say," declared the governor, "was that the labor unions would be blamed unless they make every effort to cause the arrest of the guilty parties. This the unions are doing, as is demonstrated by their offering liberal rewards for the arrest of the guilty persons."

BATTALION OF MILLITIA LOST AT ARMY MANEUVERS

By Associated Press.
CAMP ATASCADERO, Cal. Oct. 4.—Under a sweltering sun the California national guard worked hard through its first day of instruction. In the morning the infantry did close order drill on the flat and in the afternoon clambered over the hills in working out concentration problems and doing post duty. One of the battalions became lost while marching through the chaparral. That the others came through without trouble is evidence of the officers ability to march by maps, since the country is rugged and thickly wooded. The signal companies of the guard also did instruction work. The cavalry was given practice in patrolling and reconnaissance. The test ride was concluded last evening and not an officer was found wanting in stamina.

EXAMINATION FOR FINAL PAPERS IS CONCLUDED

The examination of applicants for naturalization papers was concluded in the district court this morning and about twenty-five newly made citizens were granted their final papers. The hearing was also held last evening and all applicants who put in an appearance were examined.

John L. Considine, state bullion and tax collector, arrived from the north on today's train and spent the afternoon in looking over the reports of the Tonopah and Nye county mines. He leaves in the morning for Goldfield.

Francisco where Earl Rogers, attorney for the Merchants and Manufacturers association of Los Angeles, and Detective William J. Burns, prominent in the San Francisco graft cases, are investigating. The best clue so far from San Francisco is the statement of an employee of the giant powder works that he believes he can identify the men who purchased dynamite corresponding with that found here.

General Otis is protected by a bodyguard, and the branch office where the Times is edited and published is heavily guarded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Following clues to the dynamite believed to have been used in blowing up the Los Angeles Times building and endeavoring to trace the men who purchased the explosive at the giant powder mills across the bay from this city, Earl Rogers, a Los Angeles attorney, and Detective William Burns, formerly of the United States secret service, arrived in San Francisco today. With several detectives of the Los Angeles department and half a dozen from the San Francisco force, they spent the day in running down anything like clues.

The arrests and sensational disclosures which it was said would follow the arrival of Rogers did not transpire. Tonight it was intimated that the trail was leading back to Los Angeles.

The most notable clue today is the information by the storekeeper at the powder works that men answering the description of Morris and Bryson, the alleged purchasers of the dynamite, bought eight aluminum letters forming the word "Peerless," on the night of September 22. It is supposed that these were used to disguise the boat taking the dynamite from the works.

Nixon, Roberts and Oddie the Principal Speakers of the Evening—Brief Talks Were Made by Legate Buchanan, Booth, Ahern.

"There is one thing I wish to explain to the people of Tonopah, and that is the reason for the bitter attacks made upon me by Charles D. Kilbourne, editor of the Reno Journal. I had intended to make this statement to the voters of Reno several days ago at the meeting in that city, but during the course of my address it completely slipped my mind.
"About three years ago Kilbourne came to my residence in Reno and sought an interview. Prior to that the paper edited by George Graham Rice, who is now under arrest in New York City, had been attacking my record in the senate because I had refused to stand in with him. The attacks came with astonishing regularity. Kilbourne at the time he asked for the interview remarked that Rice should be 'called off,' and that 'he was the man to do it.'
"I informed him that the attacks did not bother me, as I was perfectly satisfied if I could walk down the street and let Rice walk on the other side.
"Kilbourne then asked me what I thought of him as a candidate for the United States senate on the republican ticket to oppose Newlands.
"I inquired how long he had resided in Nevada, and he responded that he had been here six months. Then I advised him not to run and from that time he has been attacking me.
"Should he desire proof of the interview I am prepared to furnish it, for there was a third party present at the interview."

Red hot!
Right off the bat!
Over the plate at that.

Every ball a strike with George S. Nixon at the bat, every strike developed into a home run.

Republicanism hummed in Tonopah last night and from indications it will continue to hum until after the election. Never in the history of this camp has such a crowd gathered in the Miners' Exchange hall to listen to political arguments, as was in evidence last evening. The interior of the hall was crowded and standing room was at a premium. Many were forced to stand outside the entrance and listen to the addresses. The early part of the evening was enlivened by music as produced by the Tonopah military band, while red fire at intervals along the main thoroughfares announced that there was something doing. And there was something doing, both before, at, and after the meeting.

The candidates, Senator George S. Nixon, E. E. Roberts, nominee for representative in congress; T. L. Oddie, after the governorship; Con Ahern, surveyor general; J. W. Legate, clerk of the supreme court, W. W. Booth, the next state printer, and J. A. Buchanan, nominee for assemblyman from Nye county, arrived shortly after the noon hour, and put in the afternoon greeting old acquaintances. All were somewhat tired from their travels of the past two weeks, which have been of the strenuous sort. It had been one continual round of speech-making and long rides over the desert country and a slight hoarseness was apparent in the voices of the different speakers.

The gathering was called to order at 8 o'clock by Hon. Hugh H. Brown, who officiated as chairman throughout. After a few introductory remarks he introduced T. L. Oddie, and for fully five minutes the house resounded with cheers from his admirers. Senator Oddie was never extended a heartier welcome than that which he received from his home folk and that he was gratified, was evidenced by his demeanor.

At the outset Mr. Oddie remarked that he was not going to talk of himself, as he was without an argument on that score. He paid a high tribute to his opponent in the primaries, Judge W. A. Massey, and stated that the returns of the primaries had indicated that Massey was not thought of the less, nor was it a measure of ability; but that the vote in Nye county was evidence that it was his (Oddie's) home county. With regard to the state platform, the speaker said it was not the work of one man, or a set of men; it was the handwork of the entire convention.

A tribute was paid to Senator

Nixon, who Mr. Oddie said had made his money in Nevada and was investing it here, aiding in the up-building of the state. "There are no differences between Senator Nixon and myself," said Oddie, "and the so-called differences exist only in the minds of the parties who are conducting the petty papers of the state and who would have the public believe that anything but harmony exists in the ranks of the republican party. I earnestly ask all of you to give your support to Senator Nixon and vote for him, as I will do at the election on November 8th.

"I am unable to talk of my past record, for prior to this time my political life has been rather brief. The people of Tonopah know me. They knew me when I fought the battles of the leasers in this camp during the pioneer days, and now the leasers are fighting for me. I have worked hard during my life time, and if elected to the office of governor of the state of Nevada, will continue to work hard; not for the interests of myself, but for the interests of the people. I will give a clean, business-like administration if elected, and when the four years are over I will say that I have done my best.

"My ambition has always been to improve the conditions of the workmen, as my Tonopah record will show, and the two most important facts in bringing this about are simply efficiency and contentment.

"We are going to make an aggressive stand and make an aggressive campaign and with Tonopah at our back, we can count on emerging from the battle victorious."

Then came more cheers and applause and it was several minutes before the chairman could introduce J. A. Buchanan, republican candidate for the assembly. Mr. Buchanan had the honor of accompanying T. L. Oddie on his campaign for the primary election, and has also been with the next governor on his tour of the north.

"Tonopah today possesses Mount Oddie, but after November 8, the state will possess Governor Oddie," was the introductory part of "Buck's" speech, and it was greeted with cheers. Continuing, he stated that it was best for the state to have as a chief executive, a man who would bring outside capital into Nevada, instead of having a man who would bring in nothing. On behalf of his own candidacy, Buchanan stated that if elected to the state legislature he would go to Carson, and work for the best interests of Nye county.

Con Ahern, of Virginia City, and an aspirant for the office of surveyor general, followed. He had forgotten his tall silk hat and even forgot to apologize for wearing a

SAN FRANCISCO CHIEF OF POLICE ON RETIRED LIST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The police commissioners today retired Chief John B. Martin on a pension, and appointed John F. Seymour in his place. Seymour was captain of detectives on the local force for several years, and then became chief of the detective bureau of the Wells-Fargo company, which position he resigned today. It is said that he only accepted the post on the understanding that he would have the complete control of the department.

DEMOCRATS DENOUNCE DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—The Democratic county committee has passed resolutions denouncing the crime of blowing up the Times building as colossal, promising assistance in the running down of the perpetrators.

BANKERS ARE IN SESSION AT LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—The American Bankers' convention has brought nearly 1500 delegates to this city. The first day was spent in committee meetings, of which seventeen are in progress. The greatest interest centers in the bills of lading committee, which will recommend the endorsement of the Stevens bill, which was passed by the lower house of congress and is now before the senate. This bill makes it obligatory that the carriers stand behind every bill of lading issued. It is believed that this bill would so compel the railroads to guard shipments that practically all danger of frauds by forged bills would be eliminated.

EGG HAS BEEN IN COLD STORAGE FOR 20 YEARS

GREAT COMEDY FILM WILL BE PRODUCED AT THE BUTLER
THEATRE TONIGHT

A variety of subjects comprise the program of the Butler theatre for today. "Buying a Bear" is a comedy in which some young fellows make a sensational escape from jail. "A Cruise on the Mediterranean" is an outdoor picture which will rank with the excellent ones that the Urban company has produced heretofore. "The Lover's Well" is a pretty love story, involving a young soldier, a pretty girl and a Halloween charm of looking in a well to see a lover's face. "Muggsy Becomes a Hero" is a Biograph drama in which this vigorous individual appears again as the protector of two lone spinsters set upon by tramps. "Muggsy" has the appearance of having been run through a threshing machine when he again appears after the disturbance. "The Affair of an Egg" is another Biograph, this one a comedy in which an egg plays the part of comedian. It is supposed to have been in cold storage for twenty years and of course it is easy to guess where the comedy comes in.

SAN JOSE MAKES GAIN
IN THE CENSUS REPORT
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The census returns give San Jose, Cal., a population of 28,956 as against 21,500 in 1900. Pasadena has 30,291 as against 9,117 in 1900.

MAYOR GAYNOR RESUMES DUTIES OF HIS OFFICE

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Mayor Gaynor resumed the duties of mayor yesterday for the first time since his attempted assassination. When leaving the city hall in an auto for his home in Brooklyn he rebuked a policeman for roughly ordering the crowd to get out of the way. "Do not speak to people like that," he said. "Address them politely. They are not in my way, and if they were, they would get out of the way."

SEATTLE, Oct. 4.—Sixteen thousand dollars in gold bullion and $5,000 in bank notes formed a prize that prompted the looting of the mailroom of the steamship City of Seattle last night. Some bills and $8,000 in gold were recovered today from Tom Buckley, alias William Messman. The inspectors are confident that they will find the remainder on the vessel.

Gustaf Y. Berglin, a sailor, was arrested later, charged with complicity, and another arrest is expected soon.

DEADLOCK IS FEARED IN THE LEGISLATURE

By Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—A deadlock is feared in the special session of the legislature. The senate has passed a constitutional amendment necessitated by an error in the resolution passed at the recent session in relation to the Panama Pacific exposition. The assembly passed two resolutions, one offering condolence to Otis and the families of the victims of the Los Angeles Times disaster, the other offering a reward of $10,000 for the capture of the perpetrators. The senate claims that the latter resolution was out of order, but the assembly is in a mood to turn down the constitutional amendment if its resolutions are refused.

CANDIDATES OFF ON A VISIT TO NORTHERN CAMPS

REPUBLICANS LEAVE TODAY
FOR ROUND MOUNTAIN AND MANHATTAN

The republican state and national candidates, en route over this state, left this morning for Round Mountain where, after a few hours' stay, they will proceed to Manhattan and address the people of that camp this evening. Tomorrow morning the party will visit Silver Peak, Blair, have a noonday demonstration at Millers and then continue on to Goldfield, where a rousing rally will be held in the evening.

The party, which is composed of Senator George S. Nixon, T. L. Oddie, E. E. Roberts, Con Ahern, J. W. Legate and W. W. Booth, was augmented this morning by Charles J. Enquist, republican candidate for sheriff and assessor of Nye county, and L. L. Mudgett, candidate for county treasurer. These two gentlemen will return to Tonopah tomorrow. Two automobiles are used in covering the ground and it is the intention of the party to use the machines throughout the campaign.
